Dedication

We, the students of the Senior Class, are dedicating this 1963 Hi-Lites to the Benedictine Sisters. In our four years in high school, they have shown us much encouragement and understanding. They have not only given us much enlightenment through their teaching, but have aided us greatly with our outside activities.

Just as the first Benedictine Sisters, arriving in Kansas in 1863, established a firm foundation for livelihood so also have you established in our minds a firm foundation upon which we may base our morals and standards of living.

Therefore, we proudly dedicate this volume of the Hi-Lites to the Benedictine Sisters of the past, present, and future, and we hope that they will continue to find Kelly a worthy place in which to carry on their traditions of high quality.

The school board for District No. 8, Robert Vondenkamp, Treasurer; Albert Hermes, Clerk; and Jacob Heinen, Director; meet to discuss the problems which often arise during a school year.

Serve Us With A Smile

All day long the students of Kelly High School and Grade School are served by six friendly people in a variety of ways.

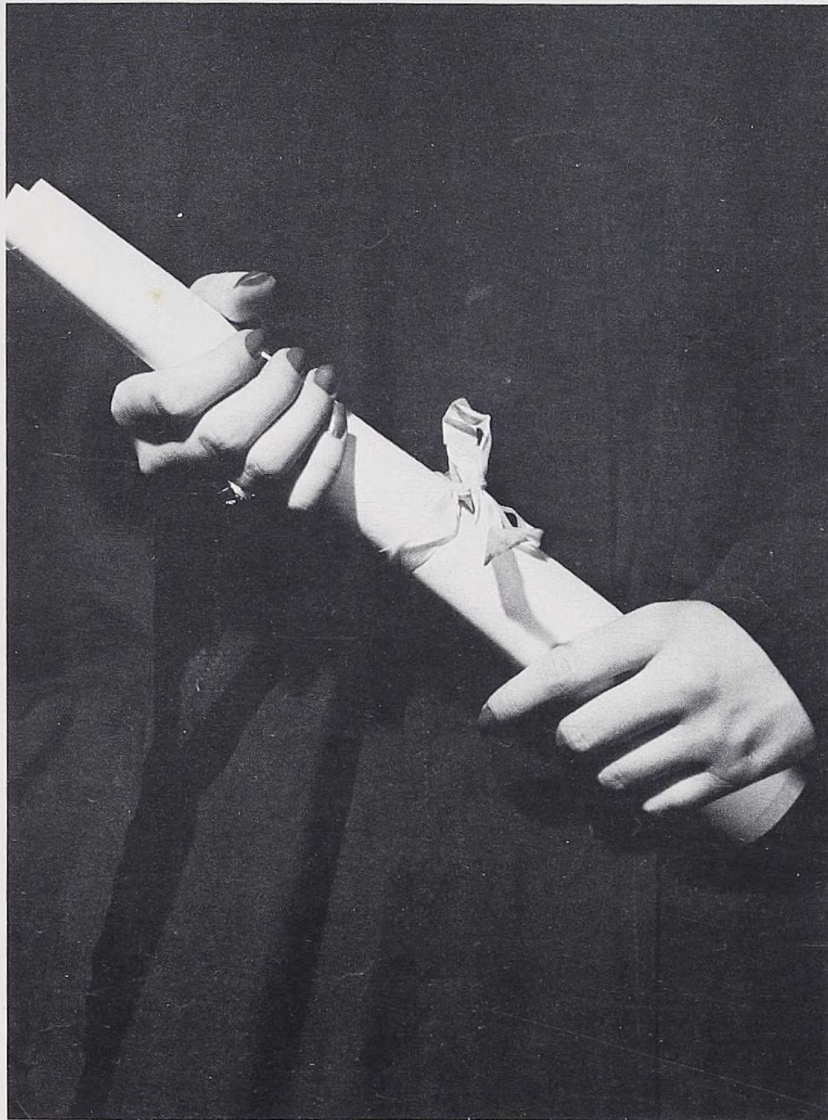

Virgil Altenhofen and Quentin Engelken, our faithful bus drivers, have served in this post since bus transportation was inaugurated in September of 1960.

At dinner time, two cheerful faces are always on hand to greet us. Mrs. Alphonse Haverkamp and Mrs. Lawrence Levert are our "Master Chefs." Mrs. Haverkamp is in her eighth year of cooking for us, while this is Mrs. Levert's second year.

Mr. Stallbaumer, our janitor, has been helping us the past two years, while Mr. Nolte assists him in various duties.

Yes, everyone of these individuals "Serve Us With a Smile," daily.

Seniors

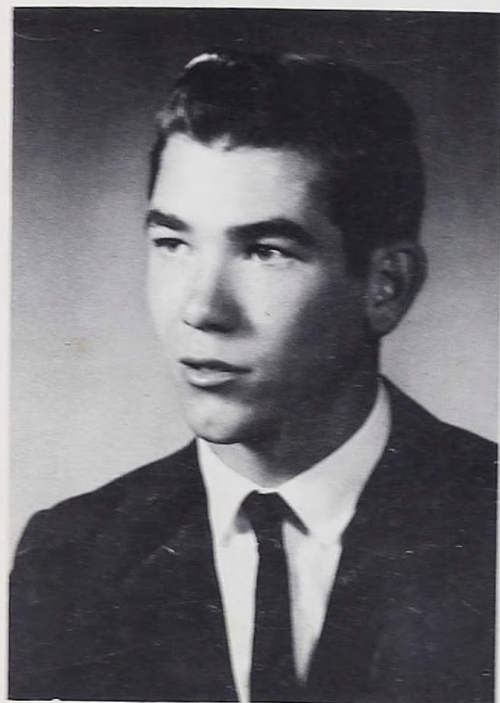

Senior class officers, Albert Rottinghaus, Jim Rottinghaus, and Maurice Huerter, discuss college plans with their spiritual advisor, Father Vincent.

With the dawn of the 1962-1963 school year, we seniors faced the reality of being the oldest class in high school. The school year began by the choosing of class officers; Maurice Huerter, president; Albert Rottinghaus, vice-president; and James Rottinghaus, secretary-treasurer. Class sponsor was Sister Dolorita, O.S.B.

Following our motto, "Fortune Favors the Brave", and guided by our class patron, St. Jerome, the class of '63 made this a successful year. Some class favorites included our flower, the water lily, and colors, coral and azure blue.

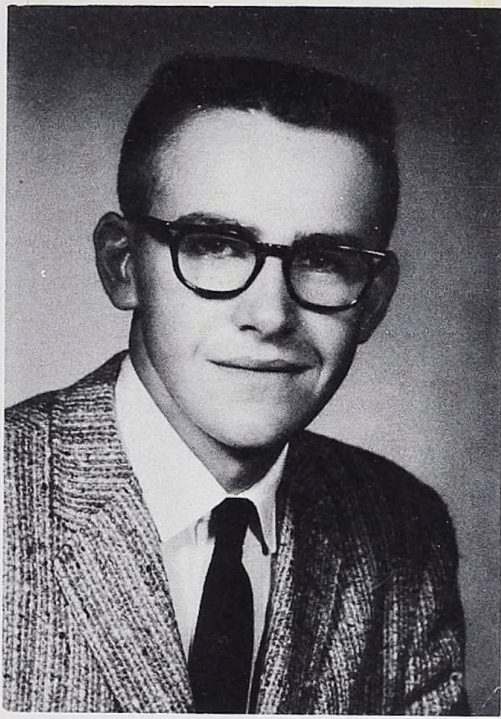

The class experienced many exciting activities which accompany being a senior. Among these were the annual Halloween dance, senior pictures, sneak day, and the style show staged by the home economics girls. But all seniors agreed, that the 1963 Hi-Lites proved to be the greatest task.

The high point of the year, nevertheless, was graduation with its mixed emotions of being proud of our achievements and yet, hating to see those school days never to return.

Junior officers: Mildred Bokern, President, and David Huerter, secretary-treasurer, count the money collected from their magazine drive, while Joan Kohake, Vice-President, compares the total with the goal they originally set.

Keeping in mind their motto, "Without Labor Nothing Prospers," the Juniors have been a class of busy bees this year. Besides keeping up with all class assignments, they worked intently on many extra-curricular activities. Among these were the magazine campaign, skating party, and the Jr.-Sr. Prom; numerous assemblies such as Speech and American Education Week; and they were also in charge of the school paper, the Spokesman.

St. Michael the Archangel was chosen class patron; and mint green and gold selected as class colors. To remind them of their great nation, the American Beauty Rose seemed the perfect flower! Sister Matthias was the class sponsor.

Judy Kohake motions as she recites "The Creation," which she learned for a speech class assignment.

Chemistry students, Mark Hermes, Richard Glissman, Shirley Heinen, and Vera Mae Enneking experiment with the new lab equipment purchased by the school this year.

Typing I students, Rosalee Haverkamp, Millie Bokern, Richard Glissman, Laura Wessel, Joan Kohake, Gary Hunninghake, Kenneth Holthaus, and Mark Heinen are looking to the future as they put into practice what they have learned.

Mr. Joseph Dooley, the moderator of the smallest class in high school, knows that quality is more important than quantity.

It seems that Latin and geometry gave the sophomores the most difficulty, but they also enjoyed the luxury of driving a new 1963 Chevrolet. On the whole, all agreed that each subject has its rough and smooth spots just as the roads which they have traveled in the Drivers' Education car.

A former classmate, Gerald Rottinghaus, was the reason for much class correspondence to St. John's seminary.

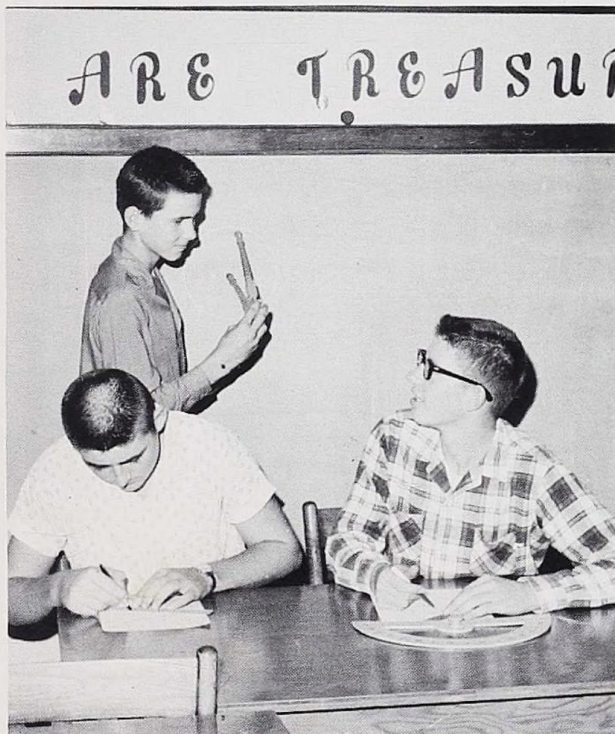

Mr. Dooley explains the method of parliamentary procedure to class officers, John Kuhlman, president; Connie Haverkamp, vice-president; and Mary Jo Vondenkamp, secretary-treasurer.

Connie Huerter, John Kuhlman, and Mary Jo Vondenkamp, Latin II students, record their reading of Latin to learn where they need improvement.

Connie Haverkamp watches very carefully as Richard Heinen points out the answer to a question in world history class.

Kenneth Hermes, Linus Enneking, and Robert Rettele find that their geometry problems can be worked on the board as well as on paper.

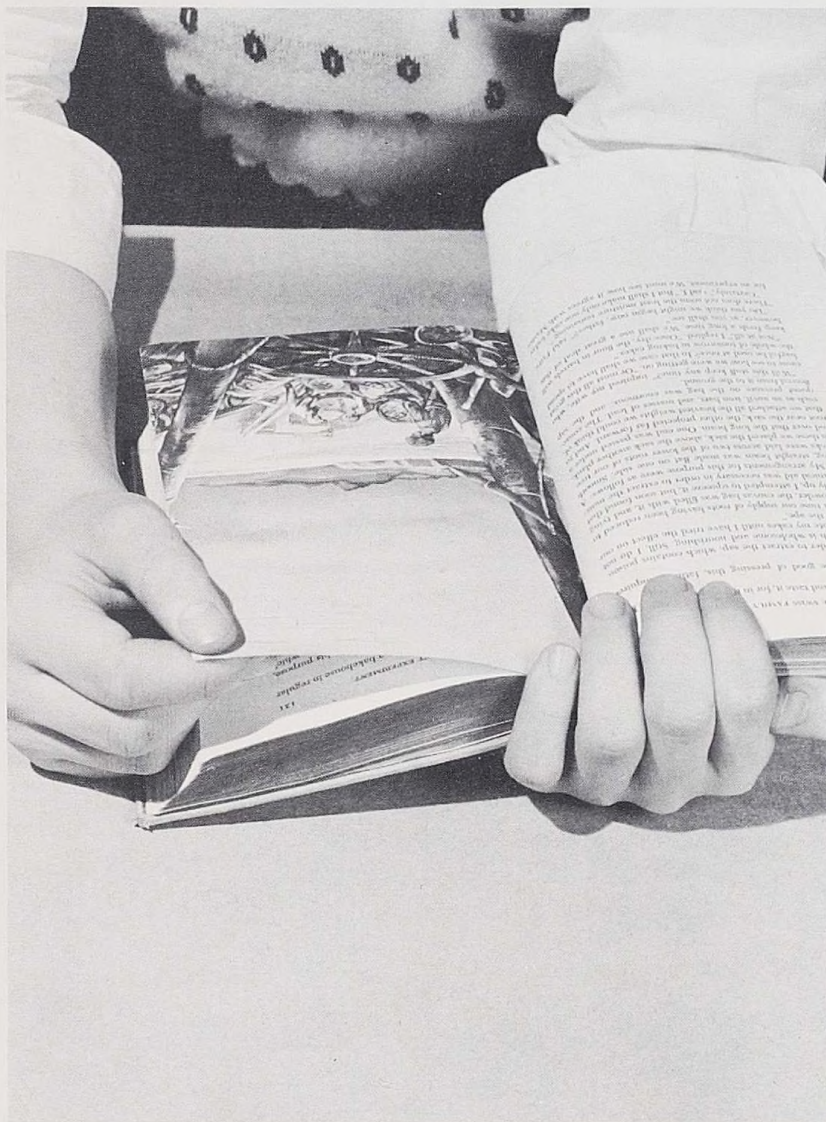

In English II class, James Heinen and Karen Wessel diagram sentences to understand their structure more clearly.

Freshmen

Freshman officers, Alice Hunninghake, president; Joseph Hutfles, vice-president; and Carol Rottinghaus, secretary-treasurer; are seen entering Kelly High with high hopes for the forthcoming years.

The "Class of 66" was inaugurated as Freshmen of Kelly High at an Orientation Party given them by the Seniors, Friday evening Sept. 14. The foremost problems of the "Freshies" were getting used to having different classes, in different rooms, with different teachers, and remembering to give upper classmen the first place.

The Freshmen Class of 15 students was a prime factor responsible for Kelly High School's record enrollment of this year. Sister Avila was class sponsor.

Springtime is operetta time for Kelly High School students and "Tulip Time" is the title of the selection they presented this year. Windmills, tulips, Dutch costumes, wooden shoe dances, native songs and lyrics took us back to ancient Osendorf, Holland, for an hour and a half of enjoyable entertainment.

The entire student body participated in the operetta but the main characters were portrayed by Harold Brokamp, Linus Enneking, Dorothy Heinen, Donald Huerter, Maurice Huerter, Betty Hutfles, Glen Niehues, and Mary Jane Schultejans.

A southern atmosphere was the setting for "Carolina Moon," the theme for the 1962 Junior-Senior Prom held Sunday evening, May 6.

The gymnasium was flanked at each end by a southern patio scene. Silhouettes of dancing Carolina maidens and gentlemen were the attractions on the north and south walls.

The theme was written on a green embankment just below the stage. On the wall to the back of the stage was a silverwinking, crescent moon on a multi-hued blue background.

The Melody Makers played the theme while Betty Hutfles and her escort led the grand march through a garden entrance of pink and silver streamers.
